

PREVENT PROGRAMME - TACKLING EXTREMISM AWARENESS

Overview

The passing of the Counter Terrorism & Security Act in July of 2015 means that schools and education providers now have a legal duty to help prevent children becoming radicalised. As such, we have teamed up with Local Authority 'Prevent' staff to develop a workshop course that raises awareness of you and your staffs individual and professional responsibilities. As well as learning how to identify vulnerable children, the course informs of the appropriate referral routes and support defined by the Counter Terrorism & Security Act 2015.

Outline of Programme

- An awareness of threats & risks
- Identification of vulnerability
- Radicalisation processes
- Awareness of opposing ideologies (Far Right and Global Jihadist)
- Legal duties as defined by the Counter Terrorism & Security Act 2015

Course Options

The prevention of extremism awareness course takes approximately 3 hours to complete and delegates may be expected to engage in several group activities. Our experienced trainers will be on hand to help guide participants through these sessions.
